That's totally up to you. We would love to have you tomorrow (Wednesday) from 11 to 12 if you'd like to come, but we certainly don't want you to go out of your way since it's not your normal day. For transparency and honesty, we only have white people in this video and really wanted some diversity and your name came up since we haven't featured you yet. I'm not sure if that makes you more or less likely to participate, but I thought I should be open about telling you.
